Purpose of the Meeting

The coordinator urged participants to attend future meetings and to communicate information about the aspirant within their communities. She proposed a grassroots outreach chain in which each woman would inform others, broadening awareness through personal and ward networks. She also encouraged women to participate in politics and prepare to vote in the 2027 election.

Contributions

Former ward women leader Hajiya Usman Zakari affirmed her support for Chief Kefas Ropshik. Hajiya Aisha Aliyu expressed confidence in the coordinator and endorsed the initiative. Nana Kida of Naraguta B Ward reflected on her experience during the 2023 election and urged continued attention to the needs of women in Jos North. Kachollom Dazong, Women Leader in Jos North, thanked participants for their confidence and called for unity, cautioning against segregation and religious division.

Key Observations

Participants welcomed the coordinator's direct engagement with ward women. The discussion underscored sustained grassroots communication, women's participation in party affairs, unity across religious and community lines, and the importance of learning from the 2023 election experience.

Action Points

Participants were encouraged to attend future meetings, share information through their networks, and prepare to participate in the 2027 election.

Conclusion

The gathering brought ward women together to discuss political participation, grassroots outreach, leadership and community unity. Participants emphasized the value of continued engagement across the ward structure.
