Purpose of the Meeting

The Plateau North Senatorial District coordinator of the Jos North Women Forum for Kefiano explained that the gathering was intended to brief the women on Chief Kefas Wungak Ropshik, popularly known as Kefiano, and his stated intention to seek the governorship of Plateau State in 2027. She encouraged participants to work through their party and ward leadership and to share information about the aspirant within their communities.

Discussion

The coordinator presented the aspirant's candidacy as an opportunity for younger leadership and urged the women to remain active in the political process. She expressed confidence that his leadership could help address challenges facing Plateau State. The discussion also underscored the importance of including persons with disabilities in community affairs and electoral participation, including voting and grassroots mobilization.

Key Observations

The meeting highlighted the value of sustained ward-level communication, women's participation in the 2027 election cycle, and the inclusion of persons with disabilities. The coordinator emphasized sharing information through established ward structures.

Action Points

Participants were encouraged to share information about the aspirant through their community networks. The discussion also called for deliberate inclusion of persons with disabilities in civic engagement and grassroots mobilization.

Conclusion

The gathering introduced the aspirant's 2027 gubernatorial ambition and gave participants an opportunity to discuss women's grassroots participation and the inclusion of persons with disabilities.
